GAME IS AMAZING but soundtracks are not that good but still like it. I really like this game, for whatever reason. A nice pixel-art top-down hack and slash (of sorts) is TKLB. You play as a tiny bear dressed for combat and moving like a ninja would in the dead of night, so must you the player control Little Bear as he hacks and spears the mean people who would harm him and his kind.

Left click is a melee ranged attack for big points and the right click is a projectile with a cost, only 3 can be used per level and it not only has rather poor distance, it can break on any surface. Use wisely your limited spears as they spin during travel. The targets for slaughter use a cone line of sight system like metal gear solid was known for so if Little Bear is outside the line of sight cone, he is invisible. Getting in the outside ring will cause the target to produce a ? above their head and going inside the inside ring will cause the target to produce a ! above their head and you will fail the map. Maps are timed as well, so being to methodical or patient will cause panic and chaos.

It makes you think, it makes you take risks and for the love of it I have no damn idea what the points for items system does or how to use items if items do exist. Im getting things from swords to hot liquids to happy faces, none of it does anything to change the flow of gameplay.

Achievements and badges. Its a nice get. Cant be beat in a single sitting, you will come back every once in a while.. This game grew me a

So it's 89 cents and I had a great time with it for the time I played. I can't even buy a Coke for 89 cents. So with that in mind...

It's a hotline miami knock off with a bear. It packs a good time for what it is. The Graphics were as crappy as expected but it didn't deter from what the game was. The music was WAY too repetitive but most of the time I forgot it was there. The gameplay was fun!

Summary, I can certainly say that for the 89 cents I spent. It was definitely worth it. I've played 20 dollar games I liked less.

Top down, simplistic gore fest in the vein of Hotline Miami.
The enemies don't move, they just switch their view.
The game is fun at the $1.00 price point, but probably has no lasting value.
Check it out, or don't.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uvEgoATnj\_0. i bought it when its 50% discount.. for less than a dollar game its great even though i dont know why at level 30> its start laggy.. but overall its good. BEST GAME FOR $1. THIS GAME IS WORTH $1000 TO ME. IT'S SO F***** FUN AND NEVER GOT BORING WHEN PLAYING IT. BEST GAME I'VE PLAYED IN 2017 SO FAR. I'M NOT JOKING. I LOVE IT. IT'S FUN AND EASY TO GET TO. WORTH IT. THANK YOU FOR THIS GAME. WORLD <3. A very strange game that is insanely fun. Lots of gore and a story that gets crazier with every scene.

<https://youtu.be/vqtgYx8ONyTo>. I would not recommend this game to anybody. There are major FPS issues for everyone, the soundtrack is very annoying, and the achievements are terrible as of now. The gameplay itself is entertaining even though there are some issues, but what made me strongly dislike this game is the way the achievements are setup.

To earn 100% achievements in this game, you must unlock every single badge in the game. Sounds reasonable, right? Well to unlock badges you must spend the coins you earn on a random badge which turns collecting them all into pure chance. There are 99 badges to unlock, so once you get down to the last few it becomes nearly impossible to receive the ones you need. Get ready to play through this entire game 20+ times to unlock everything.. I'm not fan of this type of game but I love this little game it's really relaxing game with great achievements for low price:\)
